AGAINST EXPANSION.

Less Than 2,000 Signed Petitions to the Senate.

THESE ARE FROM 21 STATES.

to Vest In the Senate Today-The Peace Treaty Likely to Be Ratified at WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 .- Senator Platt of Connecticut is expected to begin a reply today to the speech of Senator Vest on expansion, made last Monday, and as he has given very careful attention to the extension of our territorial area no little interest is manifested among senators in his presentation of the matter, and it is not improbable, unless the Nicaragua bill prevents, that the speech will precipitate a more or ess general debate upon this question. Whether it does or not a number of peeches on the same subject will be nade after the Christmas holidays proparatory to the consideration of the eace treaty.

It is hoped that the treaty will be taken up for discussion early in January. Already there is talk of the probability of disposing of the treaty during the present session, and the impression favorable to this result is growing. lew senators manifest a disposition to lebate the treaty at length, and some profess unalterable opposition, but the feeling is so strong against an extra ment of the settlement of the disposition of the Philippines after they come into our possession, that it now seems that even the minority will consent to the treaty's ratification without mate-

The friends of the treaty, who are giving attention to the closest details of opposition as they develop themselves, have taken the pains to have enumerated the names of the signers to the nemorials against annexation which have reached the senate, and they find hat there are fewer than 2,000 of them, distributed among the states as follows: Massachusetts, 1,435; West Virginia, 101; Indiana, 74; Ohio, 50; Florida, 47; New York, 45; Virginia, 39; Vermont, 29; Maryland, 16; Pennsylvania and Illnois, 15 cach; Rhode Island, 12; New Hampshire, 6; California and Missouri, each; Wisconsin and Tennessee, 2 each, and Maine, Colorado, Iowa and

THE HOLIDAY RECESS.

House Likely to Vote For It to Com mence Wednesday - Appropriation Bills Well Advanced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 .- The holiday ecess, by the terms of the resolution reported by the ways and means commitee, is to begin Thursday and extend until Wednesday, Jan. 4. It is likely, however, that the resolution will be mended so as to make the recess begin

RIOTOUS CUBANS.

Wounded Street Car Passengers and Several Spanish Soldiers, Who Finally Fired Upon Them.

HAVANA, Dec. 19 .- A crowd of Cubans of the lower class, firing shots into the air in celebration of the evacuation of Cerro, stopped street cars and ompelled passengers to shout "Viva Cuba libre." Among the demonstrators were a number of butchers, who carried pistols and knives. Jose Gancedo and his cousin, Teodoro Huertas, who were on the curb, were wounded with knives. Gancedo died and Huertas will probably die.

Later the crowd met some engineers at the Esquina de Tejas and fired upon them, seriously wounding one. They returned the fire, wounding a street car conductor, a civilian, Osodoro Basols and John Leonard, a colored man.

The rioting continued, many shots being fired in front of the Casa de Socorro, where the wounded were as

Spanish soldiers were ordered to the scene. While marching through Cerro they were fired upon by men concealed ehind pillars. One Spanish soldier fell wounded and the battalion fired into the air to scare the rioters. On resuming their march they were again fired upon and another man was hit. The Spaniards then fired and dispersed the rioters

Among the wounded was a colored woman, and it is also reported that there were several others.

There was a failing off in the corporaion receipts of the department during the period covered by the report and an increase in all other branches of the Mr. Martin suggested that the legislature should pass an entirely new and complete ballot reform bill covering the whole subject and embodying the best results of ballot reform in other states. He thinks the Massachusetts law has much to commend it, but there are many places in which it could be im-proved. He believes the legislature should specifically define which columns are entitled to the circles and which are not and that such legislation will be enacted on this question as to remove every obstacle in the way of the full exercise of the right of suffrage, ren-der fraud impossible and provide a sim-ple and complete form of ballot.

Mr. Martin says the objection to du-plication of columns on the ballot could be largely removed by assembling all the candidates for each office to be filled in groups in a single column. He thinks there should be a legislative deccal party entitled to nominate a state ticket to appear on the ballot in all the

It is some time since I left the Philippine islands and all that I can say about the situa-tion there when I left is contained in official reports which I made to the government and the peace commoston, and there is no use of my going over those subjects again. I can say, however, that there is no foundation for th report that Admiral Dewey's health has broken down as a result of his wonderful work in Manila harber on May I last. He was in fine physical condition when I left him and he was then over the strain of the naval fight. Talking with leading Filipinos I told them the United States had no promises to make, but they might be assured that the govern-ment and people of this country would treat them fairly. NEW YORK'S EX-CHIEF OF POLICE

CHOSEN FOR THE JOB. McCullagh, the Man Who Broke Up

the "Whyo" Gang and Cleaned the "Bloody Sixth," Has Gone to Tame People who do not know John W. Me-

Cullagh, the man who has been sent down to Havana to organize a police force there, may imagine that he has undertaken too

Most likely they are right. The Span-iards and the Cubans are behaving rather badly in Havena just now, and things are at sixes and sevens generally. There will be a grand shaking up when McCullagh gets to work. He has had just the kind of experience which fits a man to grapple with situations of this kind. He was or the New York police force for 28 years beginning as a humble patrolman and ending as chief.

During those long years of service John McCullagh handled lawbreakers of all sorts. One of his first exploits was the breaking up of that famous gang of thugs, thleves and murderers known as the "Whyos." If the Havana volunteers who are said to be responsible for much of the disorder in Hayana are worse than the then they are like no other Spaniards who have ever been heard of. It is probable that one "Whyo" tough would have been equal to half a dozen Havana volunteers.

Chief McCullagh was born in Ireland about 53 years ago, and he landed in New York when he was 31. For a year or so he worked as a coach driver, but he soon tired of this, and, as he had an uncle who laration as to what constitutes a politi- was a police captain, he applied for a position on the force. He was soon assigned to the mounted squad and became an ex-pert horseman. He was promoted to roundsman and then to sergeant. After 13 years of service he was made a captain. His second assignment was to the "Bloody Sixth" precinct. He was told to "clean it up." He did it.

In the "Bloody Sixth," comprising the Five Points district, were several long organized bands of toughs. These gangs no former police captain had been able to break up. There were the "Leather Heads," the inmates of the "Big Flats," the "Five Pointers" and the "Whyos." McCullagh went after them. He had barely assumed command when he put on a disguise and went personally into the resorts of the most dangerous criminals. He fraternized with the toughs and learned their secrets. He heard their sneers at the new police captain and listened to their threats. For a fortnight the criminals had their own way.

Then McCullagh put on his uniform. gathered a big squad of men and swooped down on the thugs. He arrested the leaders on all sorts of charges, old and new collected his evidence and sent them to Sing Sing for long terms. The reserves were busy those days, but the gangs were broken up, and to this day not a remnant of them remains.

Then McCullagh went after the Chinese gamblers. No one had been able to get evidence against the fantan players The new captain adopted different tactics He scoured Chinatown until he found a pigtailed tough who was willing to turn spy. McCullagh's raids were successful and never has Chinatown learned the name of the traitor. It would like to

In the up town districts McCullagh did good work also, and his ability was recognized. He was made inspector and afterward chief. When Brooklyn and the adjoining Long Island cities and towns were incorporated into the Greater New York, McCullagh reorganized and corsoli dated the various police forces. This was a work demanding much executive ability. It was a far greater undertaking than the organization of a police force in Ha

Chief McCullagh had the reputation o being one of the best looking men on the New York police force. He has a round, smooth face, a highly colored, clear com plexion, square shoulders and the genera build of an atblete. He was also one of the finest horseme among that big body of expert riders During the police parade of 1896 McCullagh led his men. He was mounted on a big black charger, which seemed to be too full of life and spirits to be kept under control. Just as the head of the line was passing the reviewing stand the band ahead struck up a lively march, and the black charger suddenly took it into his head to dance to the music. He began to prance and pirouette in the most dizzy fashion, now and then rearing on his hind feet until it seemed as if he would topple over backward.

But through it all Chief McCullagh sat like a centaur, eyes front, calm and so-rene. As he passed the stand the horse gave an extra plunge, but the rider salut-ed as precisely as if he had been merely walking past. The incident was witnessed by 20,000 New Yorkers, and they burst into a storm of cheers. Perhaps the people of Havana will soon have an opportu-nity to see a specimen of Chief McCul-lagh's equestrianship.

The American officials in Havana will find Chief McCullagh a good fellow social-He is good natured, even tempered and companionable. When he has time for it, he likes to entertain and be entertained. Few New Yorkers know better what constitutes a good dinner than he. But the rioters and lawbreakers of Ha vana will not find him a good fellow. They will learn that this red faced, square jawed American is there for business, and they will either mend their ways or go to SEWELL FORD

A Special Price During December On

During this month we will make a special price on gold spectacles and eyeglasses, as we have done in every December for the past six years. This price will include a perfect examination of the eyes, and any lenses the eyes may require, no matter how complicated the lenses will have to be ground. This price we only make for one month out of the year and that is is on account of Christmas. If you would like to make some spectacle wearing member of the family (orone who don't wear spectacles who ought to wear them) a Christmas pre-ent that they would highly appreciate, give them a pair of our spectacles. After Christmas you can have them come to us and we will make the examination of the eyes and select their lenses, and also change the frame if it does not fit the face. You had better bear this in mind as a fine pair of gold spectacles that contain lenses that are accurately fitted for the eyes, would make a present that would probably be more useful and acceptable than anything else
